To Whom It May Concern,

As a County Sheriff and former Chief of Police, I am frequently asked to provide letters of recommendation and or letters of support. It is both an honor and a privilege to write this letter on behalf of Quinn Archibeque.

I first met Quinn in 2002 when I began my career with the City of Montrose Police Department, and he was instructing at the Delta, CO law enforcement academy. From our initial interactions, it was immediately evident that Quinn is an exceptional communicator with a unique ability to quickly establish rapport and build trust. He is a natural leader who consistently performs at the highest standards. Quinn is highly trustworthy and deeply committed to fostering positive relationships within his organization and the communities he serves.

Quinn possesses extensive knowledge of Colorado statutes, local ordinances, and applicable codes. Over the years, I have observed his dedication to law enforcement, balanced with a professional and respectful approach when working with citizens. He consistently prioritizes voluntary compliance and effective problem-solving over unnecessary enforcement actions. His ability to connect with people and resolve situations in a positive manner sets him apart from many of his peers.

Quinn is a man of strong character, integrity, and professionalism. His credibility is beyond reproach, and his dedication and loyalty to both his organization and the citizens he serves exceed that of the average employee or executive.

Above all, Quinn demonstrates a deep respect for the Constitution of the United States and the rights it guarantees. As Sheriff, I recognize the critical importance of protecting the constitutional rights of all individuals, and I can say without hesitation that Quinn shares this commitment. He consistently prioritizes the protection of individual liberties and freedoms in the performance of his duties.

Additionally, Quinn has built strong working relationships with surrounding agencies throughout the 7th Judicial District and the Western Slope region. He would collaborate effectively and seamlessly with partner organizations. I highly recommend selecting Quinn Archibeque as Sheriff for Delta County.
